THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

ITS MEETING YESTERDAY NORTH CAROLINA'S VOTE CAST FOR TILDEN.

ALL RIGHT AND REGULAR.

Under the provisions of the law in this case made and provided, the electoral college of this State held its formal meeting in this city yesterday, for the fulfilment of the purpose for which it is designed. The Senate Chamber having been tendered and accepted for the use of the college, at 12 M., according to law, the gentlemen composing it assembled in the chamber and being invited forward, were seated at the desks of the Senators. All the electors were present, Gen. J. M. Leach, Hon. D. G. Fowle, Maj. Louis C. Latham, John W. Wooten, Esq., Maj. J. C. McRae, Fabius H. Busbee, Esq., Frank C. Robbins, Esq., Capt. R. P. Waring, W. B. Glenn, Esq., and Maj. A. C. Avery. Besides these, there were present the most of the members of both branches of the General Assembly, and many others. Indeed the lobbies and galleries were crowded with people, the major portion of whom had assembled for the first time to see a body of Democratic electors cast the vote of North Carolina for Democrat for President of the United States.

The electors, all being seated, Maj. A. C. Avery took the President's chair and called the college to order. In a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, he nominated Gen. J. M. Leach as the President of the Electoral College, and taking the vote, that gentleman was unanimously elected.

Maj. Avery appointed Messrs. John F. Wooten, and F. H. Busbee to escort him to the chair, and Gen. Leach, being seated, arose and said:

Gen. Leach of the Electoral College—The distinguished honor which you have done in selecting me to preside over the deliberations of this college, awakens within me feelings of profound gratitude, and I accept the nomination with pleasure, returning to you my sincere thanks for your kind and respect.

OUR ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The Presidential Electors for this State assembled, according to law, at 12 o'clock yesterday in the Capitol. A full report of the proceedings appears upon our local page. We regret that the crowded condition of our columns precluded the possibility of publishing all the interesting and eloquent speeches of the electors who spoke on the occasion. The addresses were exceedingly appropriate, and breathed that love of constitutional liberty, and that spirit of true patriotism, which must predominate at Washington between now and the fourth of March, if the will of the people is to be enforced, and the republic saved.

The distinguished honor of presiding over the electoral college was conferred upon Hon. James M. Leach—a gentleman who did glorious service in the campaign of this year, in two States. When he was satisfied that North Carolina was safe for Vance, it will be remembered that he went over and helped out Hampton.

In spite of the Kilpatrick and the Keoghs, the ten electoral votes of North Carolina have been cast for Tilden and Hendricks. Keogh's protest amounted to nothing; and Kilpatrick's effort to convert Gov. Brogden and Secretary Howerton into a sort of Louisiana Returning Board, was worse than futile. The objection to Mr. Glenn, the gallant young elector from the 7th district, was groundless, and received no consideration at the hands of the Governor. The victory at the polls was a fairly as gloriously won; the votes were all honestly counted; the certificates of election were issued in strict accordance with law; the electoral college has performed its functions in a perfectly legal manner; and North Carolina's last act in the making of a Democratic President for the next four years, has been completed.

The Constitution of the United States requires that the certified list of votes shall be transmitted under seal to the President of the Senate. Hon. R. P. Waring, elector from the 6th district, was chosen as the messenger to bear the certificate to its destination at Washington. This formality assumes more dignity and importance just now than it has ever had in the history of the State. The certificate could not have been entrusted to better hands than those of Mr. Waring, the only member of our electoral college who ever enjoyed the honor of serving as a Presidential elector before.

THE USURY LAW.

One of the most important of the subjects which claim the attention of the present Legislature, is the Usury Law—the act passed by the Legislature of 1874-75. The question to be decided now is this: Shall the act stand, or shall it be repealed?

To arrive at a correct answer it must be first decided whether the law has proved a benefit or an injury to the interests of the people. There is but one way of ascertaining this: that is, by the representatives from the various counties informing themselves thoroughly as to the operations and effects of the law among their respective constituencies, and ascertaining, too, the sentiments of the people.

If the statute has been beneficial to the State, let it stand; the interests of a few State Banks should not be weighed against the interests of the public at large. If the statute has been injurious in its operations, then let it by all means be repealed modified.

We should be glad to hear from the merchants and farmers, and other business men on this vital subject. Our columns are at all times open to the voice of the people.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The first grand act in the Republican game of fraud and force has been closed successfully. South Carolina, Florida, and Louisiana, have been counted in for Hayes. The successive steps by which these daring acts of public wrong were consummated, have been laid before the country. The daylight has been let in on every one of these dark schemes of villainy.

It would be indecent in any Southern journal to express the deep indignation felt by all patriotic people when the enormity of these outrages is contemplated. The Democrats have been cheated out of their fairly won victory; and to consummate the fraud, the most shameless trickery and most open and flagrant violations of the Constitution, have been resorted to. The voice of the people of the three States heretofore claimed as "doubtful," has been deliberately stilled by acts of absolute despotism.

Hayes has to-day 184 electoral votes—the same as Tilden. If these are allowed to stand as they are, the contest turns upon the one disputed vote in the electoral college of Oregon. That vote has been withheld, by the refusal of the Governor of Oregon to issue the certificate of election to Waits, the Postmaster. If the Radicals fail to get in this vote for Hayes, the election of the President will be thrown into the House of Representatives—which would secure Tilden's election.

The Oregon vote thus assumes vast importance. The fate of the contest may hinge around it. We trust that such may be the case; for we have little hope from Florida or Louisiana, and none at all from South Carolina, so far as the Presidential election is concerned. An investigation into the frauds committed by the returning boards would be an interminable task. It took several years to unseat Pinchbeck, the fraudulently elected Senator from Louisiana. In the case before us, it would be an impossibility to drag the truth to light in time to serve Tilden in the impending crisis at Washington. The impeachment of Grant, though a good thing in itself, would not help matters much. As matters now stand, neither Tilden nor Hayes has received a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and the duty of selecting Grant's successor must devolve upon the House of Representatives. But the situation may change. Almost every day the difficulty assumes some new phase. We must, in the meantime, possess our souls in patience, and bide the final result.

HON. J. M. LEACH.

Among the excellent speeches delivered in the electoral college yesterday, the speech of Hon. James M. Leach, the president of the college, was of singular power and exquisite taste. The calm, moderate and conservative temper of the speech will command it to the thinking men of the country; and should the policy be pursued, in the settlement of the difficult questions involved in the Presidential contest, indicated in General Leach's speech, a peaceful solution will be attained, and the liberties of the people preserved.

The Democratic peace-policy in South Carolina is bearing fruit, at last. The Hampton House now has the constitutional quorum, undisputed. The Supreme Court has ordered the Secretary of State to deliver the returns to Speaker Wallace, and we may confidently look for the final triumph of Hampton, notwithstanding the fact that the Radical-Rump House has declared Chamberlain Governor.

THE broom of Reform will soon begin its work in North Carolina.

"PUT none on guard but those who have proved themselves faithful."

A CLEAN sweep is the next thing in order.

RеспUBLICAN office-holders to the rear!

To the victors belong the spoils."

PERSONAL.

Gov. Fairbanks, of Vermont, is critically ill at Montpelier.

Gov. Brown, of Georgia, is at Tallahassee, convalescing.

Lieut. John P. Jefferson, of Company A, Fifth Artillery, U. S. A., is a son of Joe Jefferson, the comedian.

The former wife of a bank cashier in San Francisco has married a negro, thus horrifying her fashionable friends of other days.

Mr. Robert Mickle, cashier of the Union Bank of Baltimore, has probably been a bank officer for a longer time than any other man in the United States. He entered the service of that bank in 1816, and since that time has been its cashier.

The Roman populace have an old tradition to the effect that cardinals always die in batches of three, and that when one dies two others will shortly follow.

Cardinal Antonelli has passed away, and at the present time their Eminences Caprilli and Bizarri are lying dangerously ill, and are in great danger.

If the statute has been beneficial to the State, let it stand; the interests of a few State Banks should not be weighed against the interests of the public at large. If the statute has been injurious in its operations, then let it by all means be repealed modified.

POLITICAL NOTES.

One of Gen. Grant's personal and political friends reports him as saying, last week, that "Gov. Hayes has fairly carried South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, and, by God, he shall be inaugurated."

The Louisiana returns show that the lowest Tilden elector has obtained 8,980 majority over the vote for the highest Hayes elector. If in the face of this vote the State can be counted for Hayes, popular elections will be regarded as an utter farce.

The Baltimore Sun's Washington representative insists that Gov. Hayes had his misgivings, "but a tremendous pressure has been brought to bear on him to stick, and the argument has been used with him that he has nothing to do with the matter as it stands at present, and that whatever he may conclude to do when the proper time arrives it will not become him to act until after the electors meet and cast their votes."

Carl Schurz says in his paper that the military interference with the South Carolina Legislature was an act of usurpation, besides giving the South a strong anti-slavery influence.

E. A. Yates offered a resolution concerning the death of J. W. Leak, Esq., former Treasurer of the Conference, which was adopted and spread upon the minutes.

Rev. Mr. Pegram, fraternal messenger from the Methodist Protestant Church, was introduced, also a fraternal letter was read from Rev. Dr. W. H. Wills.

A resolution that one or more laymen be appointed to deliver addresses on Missions was offered. Fraternal messengers were appointed to the next session of the M. P. Council.

Resolution complimentary of the Southern Quarterly Review was introduced, discussed by the Bishop and others, and adopted.

Bishop Beebe, of the colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America, was introduced to the Conference, and made remarks of a very sensible character, which were appreciated by all present, bringing tears from many eyes, both ladies and gentlemen.

Resolutions endorsing Bishop Beebe and his work; also for taking up a collection to aid in educating ministers for that church, and placing the same in the hands of Bishop Beebe, were adopted. Seventy-eight dollars was raised.

Leave of absence was granted to T. P. Ricard, M. V. Sherrill, L. J. Holden, A. W. Mangum.

Committee on church property reported, showing a large increase in the number and character of new churches and other property, and recommending that parsonages be built on every charge.

The Joint Board of Finance made their report, showing a small deficit in the Bishop's fund. Their recommendations allow a balance on the past year's assessments, also making the assessments to the superintendents preachers, thus widows andorphans. They recommended that $6,000 be raised next year. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Education made report No. 2 which was adopted. Report No. 3 was then submitted, recommending the raising of $20,000 for the Conference Colleges to be raised by appointment among the districts. The report recommended assessing this amount among the charges and appointing a treasurer for the fund. A substitute was moved, retaining the former plan of one college agent to carry out the arrangements of last year. This elicited much debate, consuming the bulk of the morning session, pending which the Conference adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Conference met at the appointed hour.

Religious services by Rev. J. P. Simpson.

Journal of forenoon read and adopted.

A resolution of sympathy with the church at Kinston in its financial loss, was adopted. Also one recommending the book, "The Life and Sermons of Rev. Dr. Reid," to the patronage of Methodists. Also one asking Rev. Dr. North to preach a sermon before the undergraduates at the next session of the Conference.

The Bishop announced a donation of about $1,000 from Mrs. Brown, and the Treasurer of the Conference was instructed to receive and receipt for the same to the executor of the estate.

Prof. Mangum addressed the Conference with reference to Methodist influence and patronage, all of which was cordially endorsed by his Presiding Elder.

The consideration of the educational report was resumed, and at once assumed a wide range by which various plans were suggested and discussed, when the amendment was adopted, the old plan retained and all the ministers requested to aid the agent in carrying out the plan.

The report of the Committee on Bible Cause was adopted.

Adjourned until 7 o'clock.

NIGHT SESSION.

The Conference met at the appointed hour, Bishop Kavanaugh in the chair.

Religious exercises by Rev. Jos. Wheeler.

Minutes of the afternoon session read and approved.

The Committee on Joint Relations between the M. E. Church, North, and the M. E. Church, South, reported, recommending the action of the joint commission which met at Cape May recently.

The Bishop spoke to the question, after which the report was adopted by a voting vote.

J. C. Moses, J. C. Crisp, Gaston Fair, and J. H. Hill, were placed in a supernumerary relation.

Resolution asking for J. A. Cunningham to be appointed as agent for the co. leges, was introduced.

The Bishop announced the transfer of G. F. Round from the South Carolina Conference.

The secretary read the statistical report of the Conference showing a large increase in membership, finances, &c.

A subscription of $— was raised for the publication of the minutes. Also for price of session.

The Committee on Temperance was called and failed to report.

The joint board of finance was announced.

The Bishop announced as fraternal delegates to the Methodist Protestant Church next year, P. J. Caraway and W. C. Doub.

The usual resolutions of thanks were passed by a rising vote, ladies and all voting.

A rising vote of thanks to the Bishop was passed.

The minutes were then read and approved, and the Conference then adjourned sine die with religious services and the announcement of the following:
